PROF. L. E. COWLES ADDRESSES STUDENTS

The Weber academy class of 1915-16 occupied a position of honor last night at the tabernacle and listened to an address by Professor L. E. Cowles of the University of Utah. In addition to the graduates, there were several hundred academy students and alumnae at the service and the program conducted by Principal James L. Barker was deeply interesting to all. Special music was furnished by Tabernacle Organist Sam F. Whitaker, the Nylander String quartet, Mrs. Agnes Warner and a male quartet composed of Douglas Brian, Jed Ballantyne, Leo Madsen and Walter Stephens. The male quartet sang "Sleep, Kentucky Babe" and with Mrs. Warner as soloist, a selection from the opera "Il Trovatore".

The invocation was offered by Professor C. J. Jensen and the address of Professor Cowles followed the rendition of the "Il Trovatore" number. In his opening remarks, the speaker of the evening said he was proud to have been honored with a request to address the Weber graduates and, continuing, spoke reminiscently of his own experiences in connection with the local church school. He entered Weber academy, he said, as a preparatory student, in 1893 and after a hard struggle, which included the serving of a foreign mission and the overcoming of financial difficulties, graduated in 1903. For his having been able to continue at school until his graduation, Professor Cowles said he had to thank the late Professor Louis F. Moench for the encouragement given him and his parents for the sacrifices they had made in his interest. Many others, he stated, had benefited by similar encouragement from Professor Moench and sacrifices by their parents.

Speaking of the meaning of the gathering, at which he had been called upon to speak, Professor Cowles said that it was not for the purpose of giving the graduates the opportunity to show their fine clothes or to impress the public with the notion that they "knew something," but that it represented their having gained the height of another plateau of life and come to another parting of the ways. "Four years back, he said, there was another parting of the ways and 'these' chose the upper road. Educational institutions are an investment made by society, the students, represent the raw material, the teachers, the skilled workmen, and the graduates, the dividends that are turned back to society. The nature of the investment combines an outlay of money and labor, the sacrificing of comforts and the saying of prayers by the parents. The nature of the returning dividends should be of knowledge, culture and skill to be used for the benefit of society. We are debtors to the past and must be leaders to the future.

Religion, the speaker continued, which, according to St. James, may be summed up as services and personal integrity, not a matter of belief, but that attitude toward life that would make a man helpful and clean, must be included in the dividends. The test is in no sense meta-physical. There is no question of belief, not even if you believe in God. The test is simply how you behave in the face of human need, hunger, thirst, loneliness, nakedness, sickness and imprisonment. It is then possible to say that Christianity as a religion has but one essential and that is service.

"As Randall says, 'What sort of service does the world need most?' The greatest of needs in the world today is that men and nations should grasp the spiritual conception of life. It is the absence of this conception in man's practical thinking and living that breeds all the war and strife of modern civilization. When the materialistic values of money and force and selfishness are replaced by the spiritual values of character, of co-operation and of love, when man realizes who he really is and the actual oneness that binds him to his fellows and to God, then man's true and spiritual life will begin here upon earth. The supreme challenge of this age, in which the old materialism is struggling with the new spiritual consciousness, is a challenge to all the forces of organized religion to lift up the eyes and discern the new day dawning; and then catching the inspiration from all the new truth as taught by science and philosophy and human experience, to so preach and teach and live the spiritual conception of life, that all dead or dying of outward forms of religion shall be forgotten."

In concluding his talk, Professor Cowles pointed out the advantages offered by Utah, in an educational, social and industrial way to its sons and daughters and exhorted the graduates to be loyal to their state by making it the scene of their future progress. The benediction was pronounced by Professor W. Z. Terry.

BRINGS DOWN ENEMY AIRCRAFT; IS KILLED

Paris, May 21, 5:05 p. m.—Georges Bolliot, automobile racer and aviator, has been killed in a fight with five German aeroplanes. He succeeded in bringing down one of the German machines before a bullet pierced his heart.

M. Bolliot served earlier in the war as chauffeur for General Joffre. He won the grand prize of the automobile club of France in 1912 and 1913.

Edna May received $100,000 which she gave to the Red Cross, for appearing in "Salvation Joan," comes tomorrow at The Ogden.

WORLD'S MARKETS

New York, May 22.—The upward swing in the stock market was again leading the movement. Transcontinental was in particular demand. Union Pacific opened with 2500 shares at a maximum gain of 5.8c, which soon increased to 1.14 with 1.38 for Canadian Pacific. Reading showed an early gain of a substantial fraction, and Lehigh Valley, St. Paul, Atchafalpa, New York Central and New Haven were active at higher levels. United States Steel's opening transaction consisted of 2600 shares, duplicating its recent best price of 85 7/8, and Coppers as well as leading specialties showed further improvement.

Irregular movements of the first hour indicated incessant realizing. St. Paul made an extreme gain of 2 points and other leaders improved upon opening prices before the reaction became pronounced. Canadian Pacific declined sharply and other rails yielded more moderately. Trading then drifted to the munitions and similar shares, with gains of 1 1/2 to 2 points for Crucible, the locomotives, New York Air Brake, a American Car and Industrial Alcohol, Motors and Copper and Zinc issues were higher, but United States Steel was relatively backward. Bonds were firm with Baltimore & Ohio convertibles in special demand.

Reading reasserted its leadership at midday advancing buoyantly to $109 5/8, a new high record, on heavy trading. The rise was materially assisted by a favorable United States supreme court decision. Other standard issues also hardened substantially.

Chicago Grain

Chicago, May 22.—Prospects that despite lessened acreage the Nebraska yield this season might equal the amount harvested in 1915, had a bearish influence today on the wheat market here. Reports were received that conditions throughout the state were nearly perfect and that great improvement had been made in the last ten days. Apathetic advices regarding foreign demand counted also against the bulls. Opening prices, which ranged from 3.8c off to 5.8c up, with July at $1.12 to $1.14 and September at $1.12 5/8 to $1.12 7/8, were followed by a material setback all around.

Predictions of enlarged receipts eased the corn market. There was no urgent pressure though, from sellers. After opening 1.4c down to 1.8c advance prices underwent a moderate general sag.

Oats declined with other grain. Fine weather to promote growth gave an advantage to the bears.

Lower quotations on hogs weakened provisions. There was a noticeable absence of support.
